1. DISTRICT INFORMATION IN BRIEF

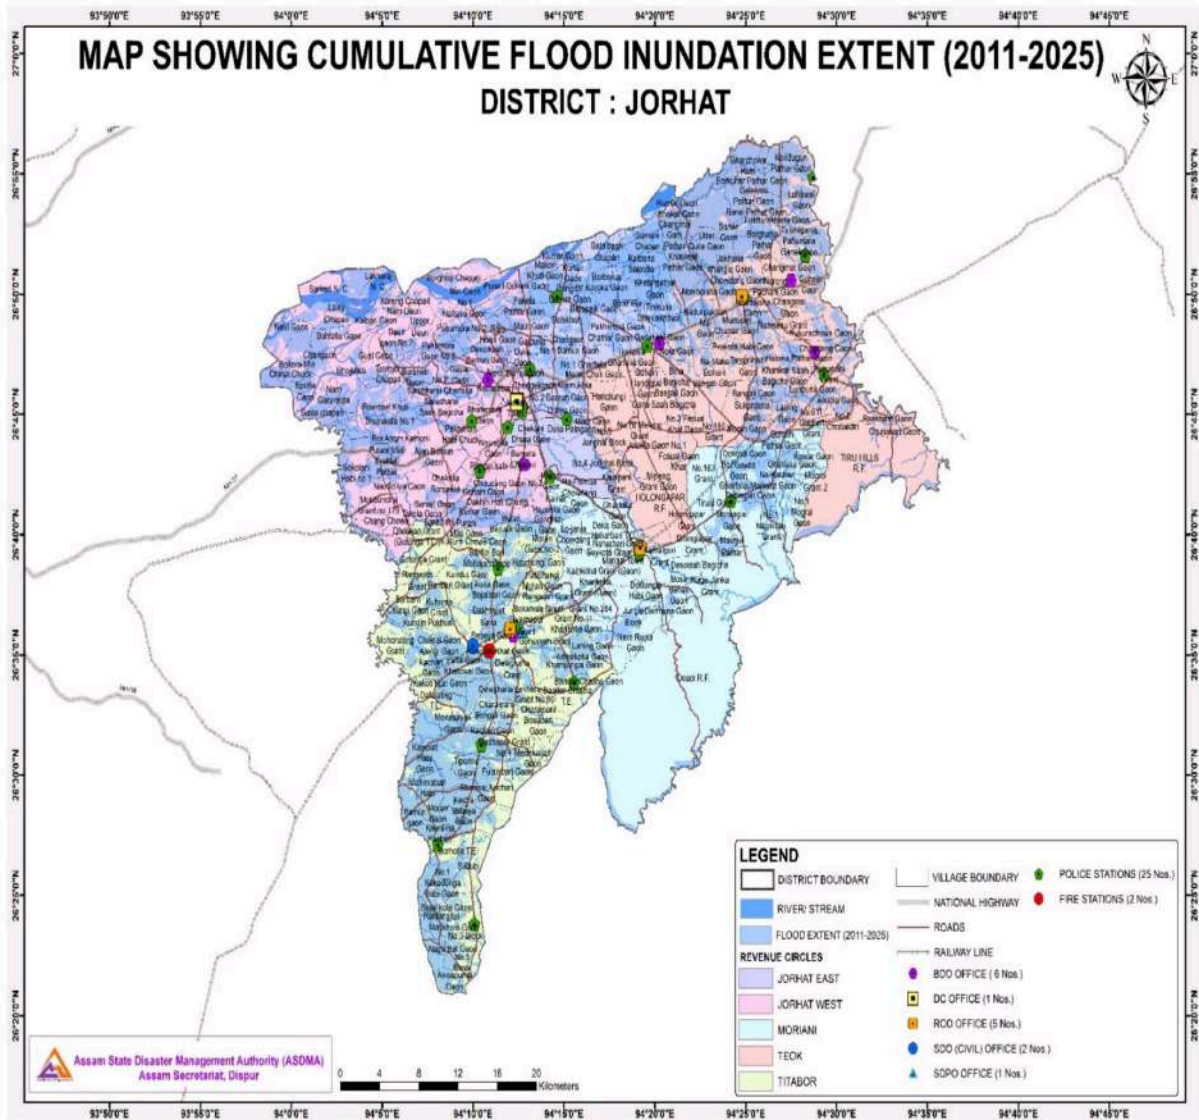

Jorhat district is located between coordinates 26.7500⁰N and 94.2200⁰E Coordinates. It is bounded on the North by the Majuli District in the East Sivsagar District, in the South by the Nagaland Hills and in the West by the Golaghat District.

Earlier Jorhat was a sub-division of undivided Sivsagar District. In 1983 Jorhat was carved out of Sivsagar District. The present Jorhat District consists of three (3) Co-Districts namely Teok, Titabor and Mariani and Jorhat being HQ. The district is divided into 5 Revenue Circles and 6 Development Blocks.

3.FLOOD PRONE AREAS

A large number of tributaries of the river Brahmaputra such as Jhanji, Teok, Mudaijan, Tepajan kokila, Bhogdoi, Bekajan, Toklai, Tarajan, Kakodonga, etc. forms a network of waterways in Jorhat. During flood season those tributaries/rivulets which are flowing from Nagaland to Brahmaputra are inflated with rain water every year. During floods the water level of Brahmaputra flows back through the tributaries /rivers inundating most of the areas of the district on the Northern side of NH 37. In Southern side of the NH, flood normally occurs at the adjacent areas of river Kakodunga. Many areas are also affected by swelling waters of rivulets like Teremerijan, Bekajan, Kachajan, etc during the flood season.

(iii) FLOOD PREPAREDNESS PLAN OF JORHAT WEST CIRCLE, JORHAT:-

Name of the Circle	:-	Jorhat West Revenue Circle
Name of the Circle Officer	:-	Sri Sajib Das, ACS
Contact No. of Circle Officer	:-	9706106871

The Jorhat West Revenue Circle is located at North West part of district Jorhat. The total area of the revenue circle is divided into 6 (Six) Mouzas for its administration namely:

- 1) Porbotia
- 2) Sarusarai
- 3) Baligaon
- 4) Hezari
- 5) Khongia
- 6) Charaibahi

Moreover it has 139 Cadastral and 2 Non-cadastral, total 141 Revenue Villages. It is one of the most floods prone Revenue Circles in Jorhat district. The Revenue Circle faces acute flooding in the flood plains of the river Brahmaputra basins and other smaller river sub-basins such as Bhogdoi, Kakodunga and Dholi. An extremely dynamic monsoon regime combined with unique physiographic setting of the basins has been considered as the single most important cause for frequent occurrence of flood in the Circle. Last year's i.e. in 2024 both urban and rural flood occurred in many places of West Revenue Circle, Jorhat such as Kamala Baria, Kumar Gaon, Daini Gaon, Gobindapur, Noyun Guhai Gaon, Charigaon Chapori, Purni Guhai Gaon, Deka Satravakat, 1 No Miri, Porbotia, Baligaon Mouza: Khongia Gaon, 2no Miri, Purani Gohain, Loliti Chapori, Kolia-Chuk, Eporia, Bormukoli, Baghmora Chapori, Bukura Miri, Charigaon, 8 No Spar, Neol Gaon, Kakoti Chuk, Chinai Chuk, Dorikamari, Gendhali Chapori, Bormer Chapori, Malowpam, Gualjan, Nam Garumora, Gorai Chapori, Koraihua, 1 No Bhurakola, 2 No Bhurakola, Araltoli, Sakalani Pathar, Ranga Gora Khuti.

E. FLOOD PREPAREDNESS PLAN FOR 2026-27 UNDER TITABOR-MARIANI DIVISION (IRRIGATION) TITABOR

Chapter 1: Introduction.

Titabor and Mariani lie in the eastern part of Assam, close to the Brahmaputra River and its tributaries, such as the Bhogdoi and Janji rivers. The region has a predominantly alluvial plain, characterized by fertile soil but also a high susceptibility to waterlogging and erosion. The area receives heavy monsoon rainfall, often exceeding 2,000 mm annually, which contributes to seasonal flooding.

The objective of the Departmental (Divisional) Flood preparedness Plan is mainly to mitigate the loss to life and property. Having such eventualities occurring, it becomes imperative on the part of the Division to tackle the incidental hazards with an effective response so as to recover early with a minimal damage to life and property by resorting to a well-defined and previously chalked out line of action.

Chapter 2: Hazard and Vulnerability Scenario.

Flood is the most frequent type of disaster worldwide. It can strike anywhere and anytime. Usually the area adjoining the foot hills are susceptible to the surging waters while the away areas are prone to rising water level i.e. floods. All these elements being force majeure, the extent of damage is proportional to the magnitude of occurrence of the hazard.

Flood water affects standing crops, canal systems, pump houses and their approach roads of Flow/Lift/DTW irrigation schemes.

Chapter 3: Main tasks before the Division.

In any irrigation scheme, there are three stakeholders viz. the department, the contractors in case of on-going schemes and the water users i.e. the farmers. Hence any disaster management activity has to incorporate all these three key stakeholders both at the pre and post disaster levels with an eye to achieve a single goal. To have a concerted effort from all the stakeholders, it is felt that awareness, training and capacity building amongst them play a pivotal role in executing a well placed plan at the time of disaster. For a plan to succeed, the availability of adequate finance is a must as many lifesaving and other essential equipment's will be required to be at hand during any disaster. The post disaster period is very crucial from the view point of rescue, repair and restoration. Hence prior proper training and capacity building of the stakeholders is to be undertaken so as to minimize collateral damages and early restoration of irrigation services by following a laid out Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) determined by the Department. Again in contrary to the classical approach of undertaking an irrigation scheme, the parameter of disaster management is to be taken into account by increasing the factor of safety of the structures against the vagaries of natural disasters and mapping of the scheme into the security cover for man-made hazards. However, such exercises will increase the overall cost of the scheme in a short-time approach but will be cost effective in long-time approach considering the amount of capital that have to be ploughed in for any restorative works.

Chapter 4: Phase-wise description of departmental responsibilities/activities.

Flood can cause havoc and throw any irrigation scheme into disarray by creating a state of confusion among the stakeholders for taking a reasonable course of follow-up action. Hence a pre-determined well laid plan is foremost necessary to immediately execute the appropriate course of action depending upon the type and magnitude of the occurring hazard.

i) Pre-disaster:-For Flood,

1. Checking and ensuring of canals and other structures for irrigation schemes in good condition.
2. Checking of unauthorized construction likely to damage any structure of irrigation department and accordingly steps taken for remedial measures.
3. Assessing of requirements and arrangement of tools and plants and other stores.

4. The HFL of the project site to be marked out and construction of the structures and the approach roads are to be carried out over this level as and where possible.
5. All transformers of the DTW schemes are to be installed at an elevated position and to be fenced.
6. A mechanism of automatic cut-off switches to be installed to disconnect any HT/LT feeder line to prevent cases of electrocution.

ii) During disaster: -

This is the most crucial phase as it tests the effectiveness of the adopted mitigation measures and determines the restoration time. On receipt of flood warning the EE Irrigation shall----

1. Keep close touch with the DC;
2. Alert staff; and
3. Check
 - Tools and plants , stores ,
 - Vehicle, trucks, bull-dozer

On occurrence of flood, the EE shall,

- i) Visit the irrigation works in flood affected areas.
- ii) Lend the DC materials (if available) for temporary relief camp, vehicles if required.
- iii) Assess requirements and deploy staff to suggest DC for undertaking irrigation works, on test relief and render technical assistance as necessary ; and
 - Take safety measure for the protection of irrigation canals and other irrigation works.
- iv) Frequently visit the flood affected areas and ensure measures for safety of irrigation structures, and

iii) Post disaster :- After the flood , EE shall-

1. Restore tools, plants and stores.
2. Repair/replace damage tools and plants ; and
3. Collect materials, vehicles, lent to District Commissioner.
4. Prepare plan and estimates for repairing damaged structures and place it before DDMA for onward submission to the Government for necessary approved for State Disaster Response Funds (SDRF).

Chapter 5:- Departmental Capacity Building Policy for Flood Preparedness:

A Robust Capacity Building Policy for the Titabor-Mariani Division Irrigation department is essential to enhance flood preparedness, improve response mechanisms, and ensure sustainable water resource management. This policy focuses on strengthening institutional capacity, training personnel, upgrading infrastructure, and fostering community engagement to mitigate flood risks.

Chapter 6:- Knowledge Management.

Effective knowledge management plays a crucial role in enhancing flood preparedness under the Titabor-Mariani Division Irrigation system. By systematically collecting, analyzing, and sharing flood-related data and best practices, the Division improve decision-making, response strategies, and resilience-building efforts.

6. Ensure mechanism for prompt and efficient response.

HAZARD AND VULNERABILITY SCENARIO:

The District Jorhat faces acute flood problems in the flood plain of river Brahmaputra basin and other smaller river sub basin in the flood plain of the district. River bank erosion is also a serious problem in the Jorhat district. The district suffers from annual flood events since long back. A large number of tributaries of river Brahmaputra such as Jhanji, Teok, Mudoijan, Tepaiajan, Kokila, Bhogdoi, Bekajan, Tocklai, Tarajan, Kakodonga etc. form a network of water ways in the Jorhat. During flood season those tributaries/rivulets which are flowing from Nagaland to Brahmaputra are inflated with rain water every year most of these rivers/rivulets' vulnerable dykes and those such as Jhanji and Bhogdoi which have embankment has opening at the month. Hence during floods, the water level of Brahmaputra flows back through these rivers inundating most of the areas of the district on the northern side of NH 715 (Old NH 37). In Southern side of the NH flood normally occurs at the adjacent areas of river Kakodonga in both Jorhat and Titabor Sub-Division. Based on danger level of Brahmaputra and other tributaries the following areas are identified as vulnerable areas of the district of the Jorhat.

Name of the Vulnerable areas	Name of the Block
Balikhuti, Rowmarikhuti, Rongagaon, Bharakhels, Chakatings, Kakaticuk, Eporia, Uttarkhelvia, Dakhinkhelvia, Chinaichuk	North West Development Block
Bonaighat, Kawoimari, Ajarguri	Kaliapani Development Block
